APPRENTICESHIP WEEK 2012

Get with Mentoring

National Apprenticeship Week is raising the profile of Apprenticeships across the country and at Ixion we want to enhance our apprenticeship delivery to provide the best support possible to help our apprentices achieve their qualification and to ensure our employers benefit from well motivated and dedicated staff.

In addition to the direct support provided by our assessors and trainers, we are opening our online Mentoring site, The Mentor Hive, to our apprentices*.

For Ixion apprentices, this means they can search for a mentor who can guide them through some of the pitfalls of working for the first time, or help them with future career planning. A mentor might help our apprentices to fit in as part of a team or find out how to get the right support from their manager, or just be a sounding board for the work they are doing.

Why should I register

We are always on the look out for new Mentors to get involved, and what better time than National Apprenticeship Week, to think about how you can support others gets onto the career ladder for the first time.

What do Mentors say....

"I get a great deal of satisfaction by helping people and it helps me brush up my interpersonal skills, I really enjoy it! Helping others is a way of putting something back into society and is very rewarding."

What do Mentees say....

"As a mature student it is easy to assume that people think you will automatically know how to act, think and work when you have finished your degree and enter the big wide world. Guidance from a professional, no matter how small can be invaluable"
